Credentialing systems were one of the major themes of the training that Mr. Wehrer has been taking as part of the Secretary of Education's Superintendents' Academy. According to Mr. Wehrer, credentials such as "Career Ready" and "College Ready" could be used not only to inspire higher achievement in high school, but also to inform all K-12 learners and staff that better performance would be needed to meet the higher expectations of the credentialing system. Mr. Wehrer plans to work with district stakeholders to develop a credentialing system that is unique to Steel Valley.
